Foreword

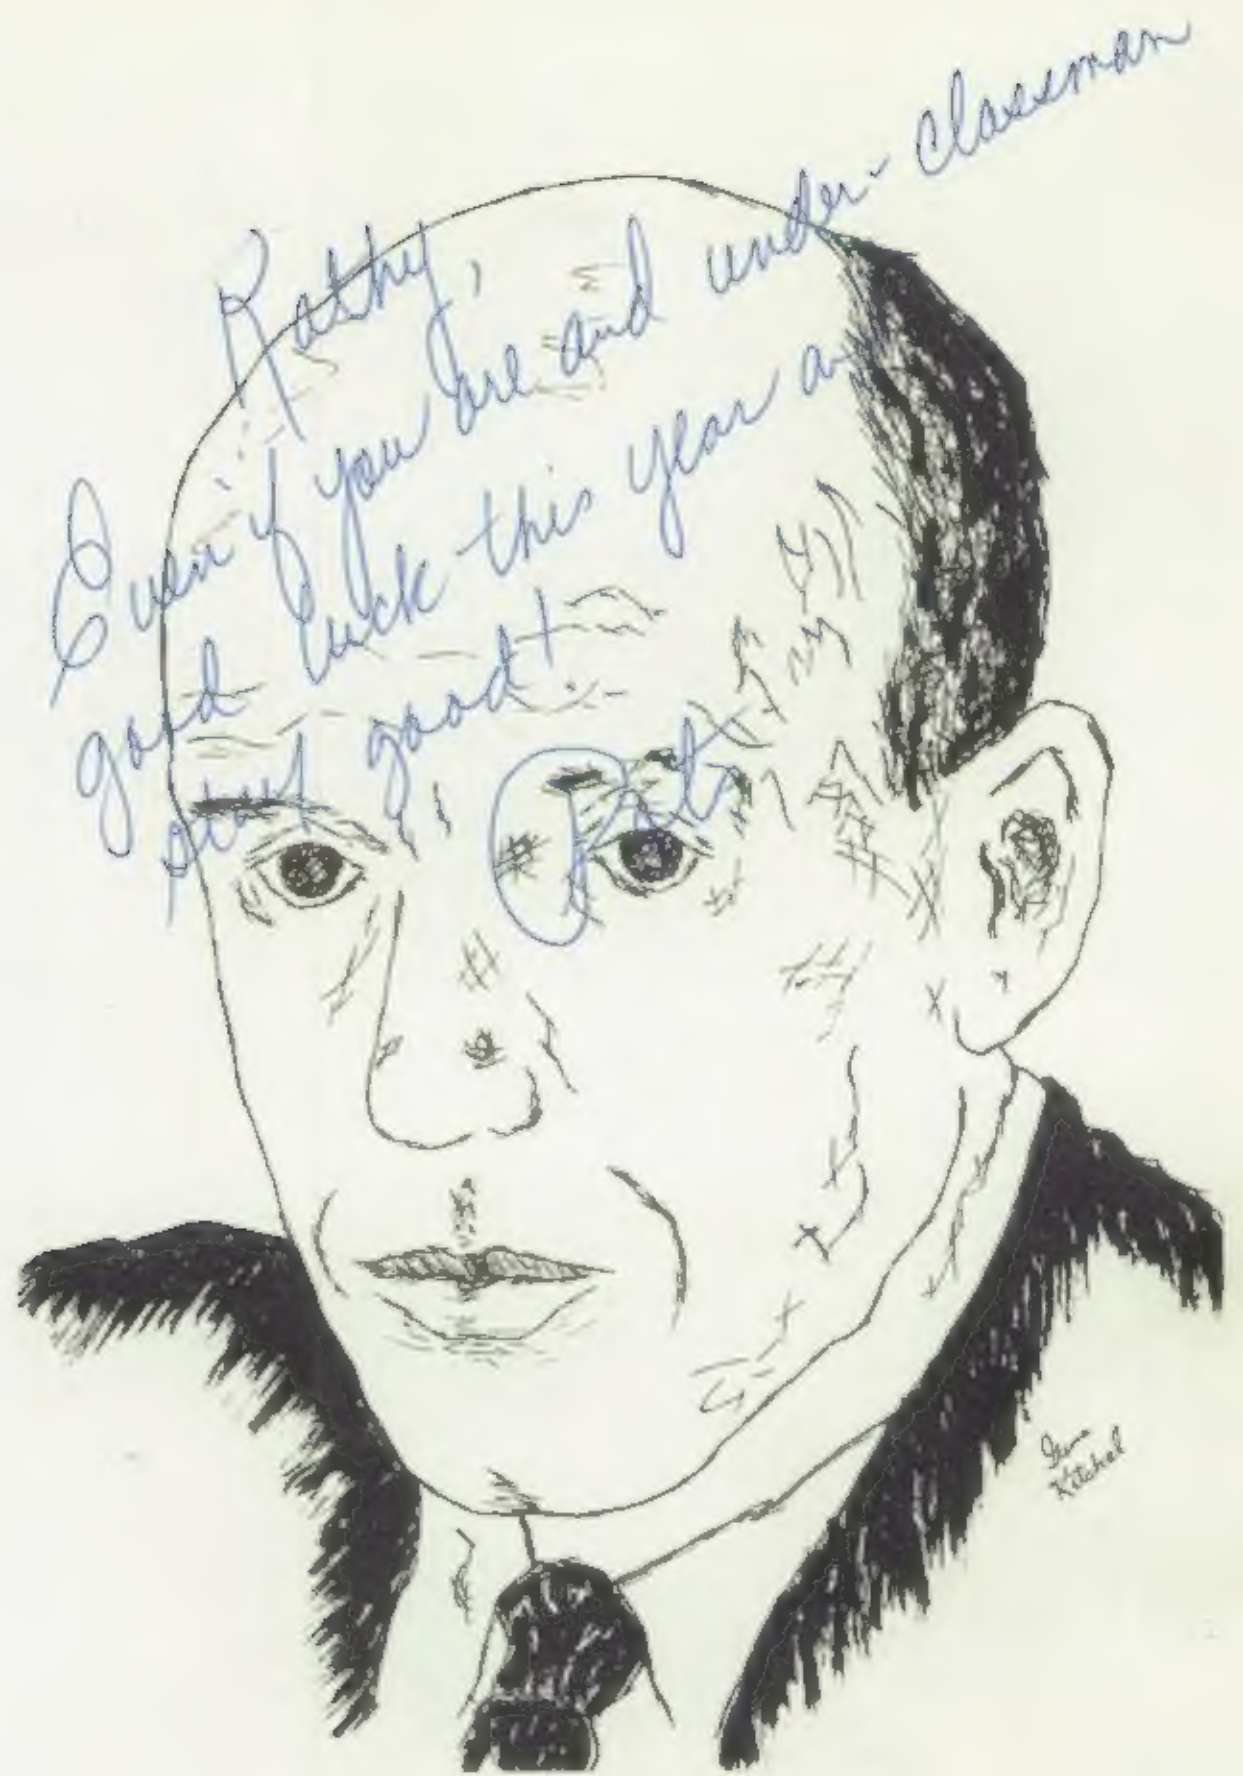

Your high school annual will be one of the most cherished treasures in your future years. This pictorial history of the academic and extra-curricular activities of our school will help preserve those memories of students and teachers working together to develop the fullest potential of each student.

Only after we have gained new experiences away from our high school will we be able to truly realize the values and significance of many of our high school experiences and associations.

The following dissertation by a Sequim High School graduate presents an impression, based on new experiences, of a high school teacher:

A man's wisdom is of great value,
Though the giving of that wisdom is greater still,
For if one knows alone his knowledge within him stays and ends;
But if shared lives to be built upon and shared again.
The giving of one's learning to another
Is not without accompanied sacrifices.
So often we who should be reaching out
Do not understand and thus we fail to fully take
Of that which would be freely given.
With appreciation and the desire to give thanks
To one who has shared so much, we, the graduates of Sequim High School,
As a symbol of our growing understanding, wish to acknowledge the dedication
Of this year's Greywolf to Mr. Gordon L. Nelson.

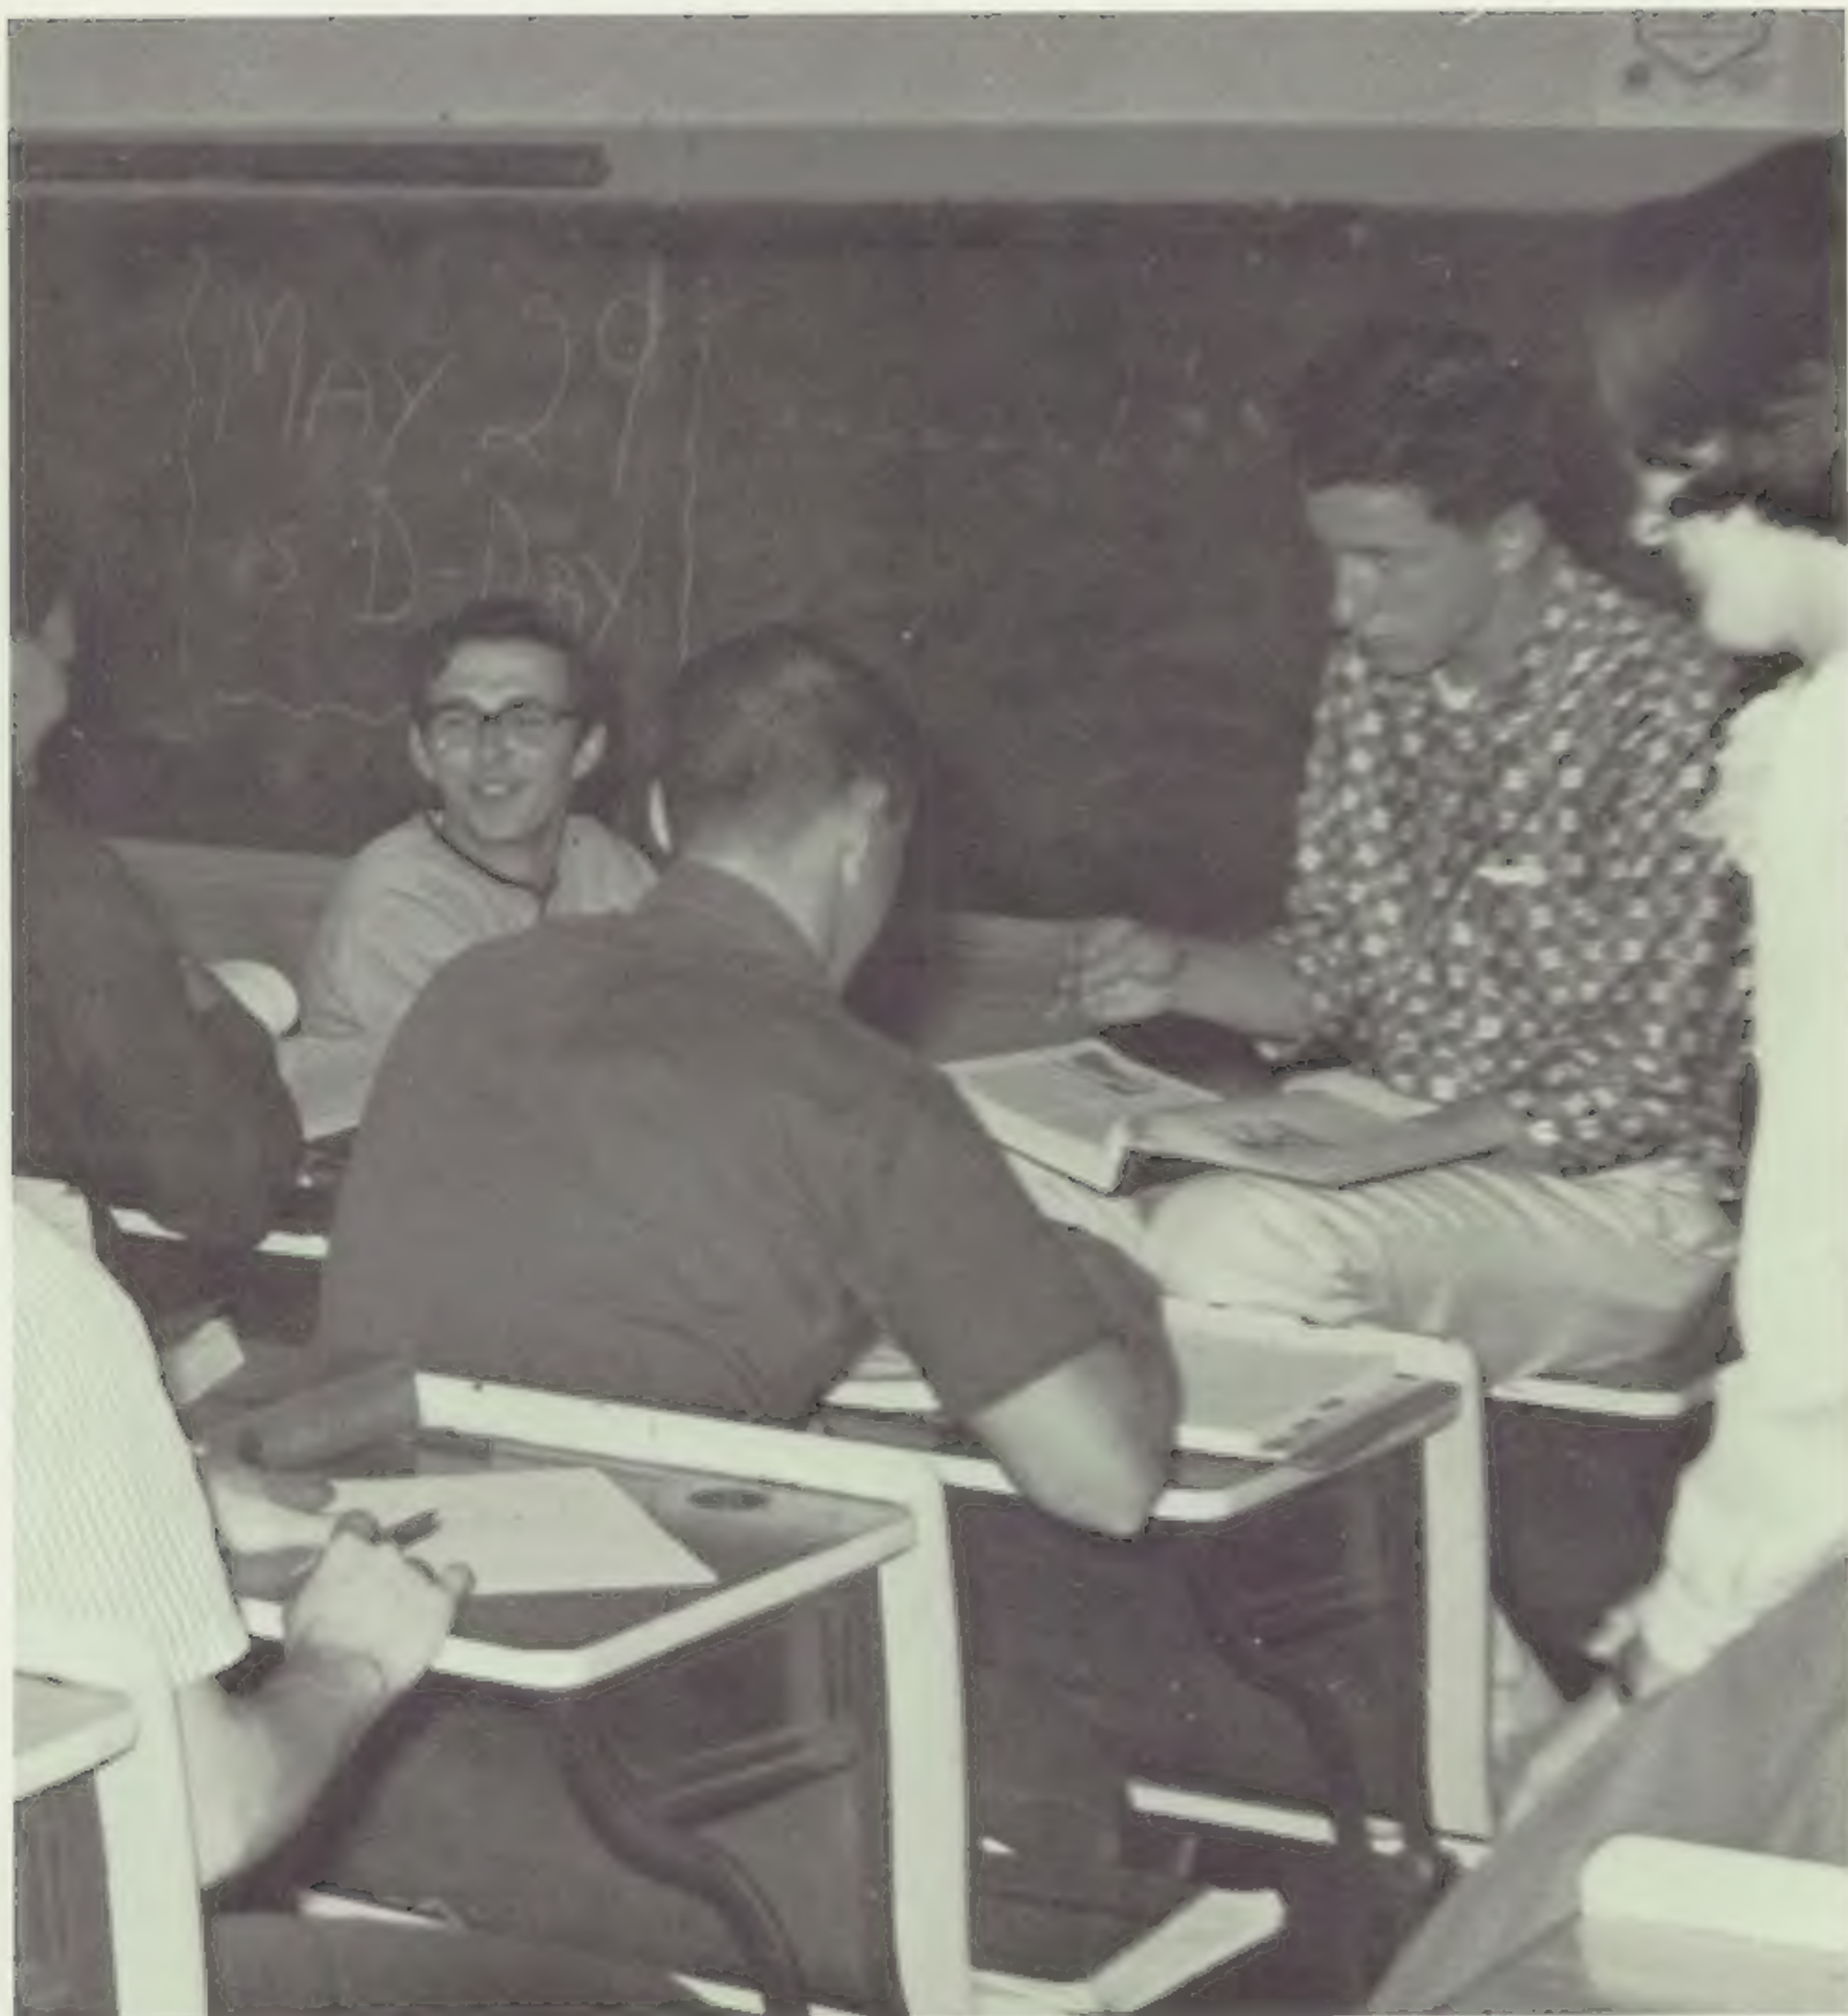

Peggy Lancaster

We are fortunate to have known
A man such as this:
A man who stands alone in any crowd,
A man with the knowledge of the truly wise,
A man who both encourages and inspires,
A man who gives of both heart and mind
To lead others boldly to the up-ward way.
To such a man it is that we this year dedicate
Our annual, our hearts, and our thanks
For being who and what he is--
Mr. Gordon Nelson.

A School is not a building

A School is People. . .

An administration dealing with the problems we cannot ourselves handle . . .

A faculty striving to help us to become individuals by giving us a part of themselves. . .

A School is all the students: Their diversities and likenesses, their opinions and prejudices, their joys and sorrows,

their strengths and weaknesses . . . It is fads and fancies, attempts and successes, talents and shortcomings . . .

A School is teachers and pupils: Ideas formed and expressed . . .

personal conflicts in an effort to think independently. . . A school is the people we sometimes forget to notice: A friendly janitor,

a helpful cook,

a dependable busdriver,

an understanding nurse . . .

*A School is different as its people are different: As their opinions and habits change . . .
as they feel hope or despair . . . as they work to make it what it is in the truest sense-People!*

Matt Strauss, Superintendent

SUPERINTENDENT. . . .

May I congratulate the entire staff of the 1964 Greywolf for their excellent yearbook.

You have carried out well the tradition of excellency that has been established in recent years by your predecessors; a tradition that has become symbolic of the quality of work of our high school as a whole.

I am sure this Greywolf will be cherished by each student with increasing regard as time goes by as a true remembrance of their experiences in Sequim High.

Matt Strauss

Superintendent

PRINCIPAL. . . .

For sixteen years; thirteen as high school principal; I have had the privilege of working with and for the students of Sequim High School. Over seven hundred students graduated from here during those years. Graduates have attended major colleges throughout the country and are now engineers, doctors, teachers, lawyers and successful professional people in all phases of community activity and economic endeavors.

The teachers and administrators of Sequim Schools have always tried to provide the most challenging educational opportunities for each student.

Congratulations to Peggy Lancaster and the 1964 Greywolf staff for a really outstanding annual. Hours of planning and hard work have gone into making your annual an everlasting record of your high school years.

Sincerely,

Leonard W. Beil

SENIORS PRESENT FALL PERFORMANCE:

TWELVE ANGRY JURORS

After weeks of hard practice, the class of "64" presented the three act play, "Twelve Angry Jurors". The play was presented for three different audiences on November 16th and 17th. With a cast of fourteen, under the direction of Mr. James Wilson, the play proved to be a huge success for the senior class.

Twelve jurors were to decide on the guilt of a 19 year old boy charged with murder. The only set used throughout the play was the jurors room. Very little action was employed, and through the lines of the performers emotion mounted to an exciting climax.

Class Speakers: Gary Gizinski, Paula Sanford, Janet Scott, Jack Clapp.

Pre-Graduation

The Class of '64 climaxed a very active year with a week of pre-graduation activities, beginning Thursday with dress down day which brought everything from a "rail job" and a "hot rod clod" to the tail end of a horse. Contrasting Thursday was Friday's Awards assembly and dress up day. On this day many seniors as well as underclassmen were awarded honors for achievements throughout the year. Included in this were the senior plaque winners: Loxie Kinnamon, Bonnie Johnson, Robin Davis, Jeanette Schnuriger, Janet Scott, Paula Sanford, Larry Hull, Gary Gizinski, Tom Boyd, Don Swanson, Bill Hahn and Mike Schade.

Activities

After the meal, Mr. Beil and Mr. Strauss gave short talks to the graduating class. Concluding the evening, entertainment was provided by Bonnie Johnson and Richard Granum.

Sunday, May 31 seniors joined in an inter-denominational service as one of their last group activities. The service, headed by Rev. Torrence, was sponsored by the Sequim ministerial Association.

Graduation climaxed twelve years of working together for education and pleasure. Among other awards, six students were honored for outstanding academic achievement: Sharon Coon, Gary Gizinski, Bonnie Johnson, Janet Scott, Steve Smith, Lynn Torrence

These scholarships will enable many members of the class to continue their educations, "to become the best of whatever they are".

Diplomas were awarded by Dr. Donald Corlett, local school board chairman. To many these diplomas represented not the final step in a road well traveled, but rather a passport to the future, not graduation, but commencement.

COUNCIL PROMOTES

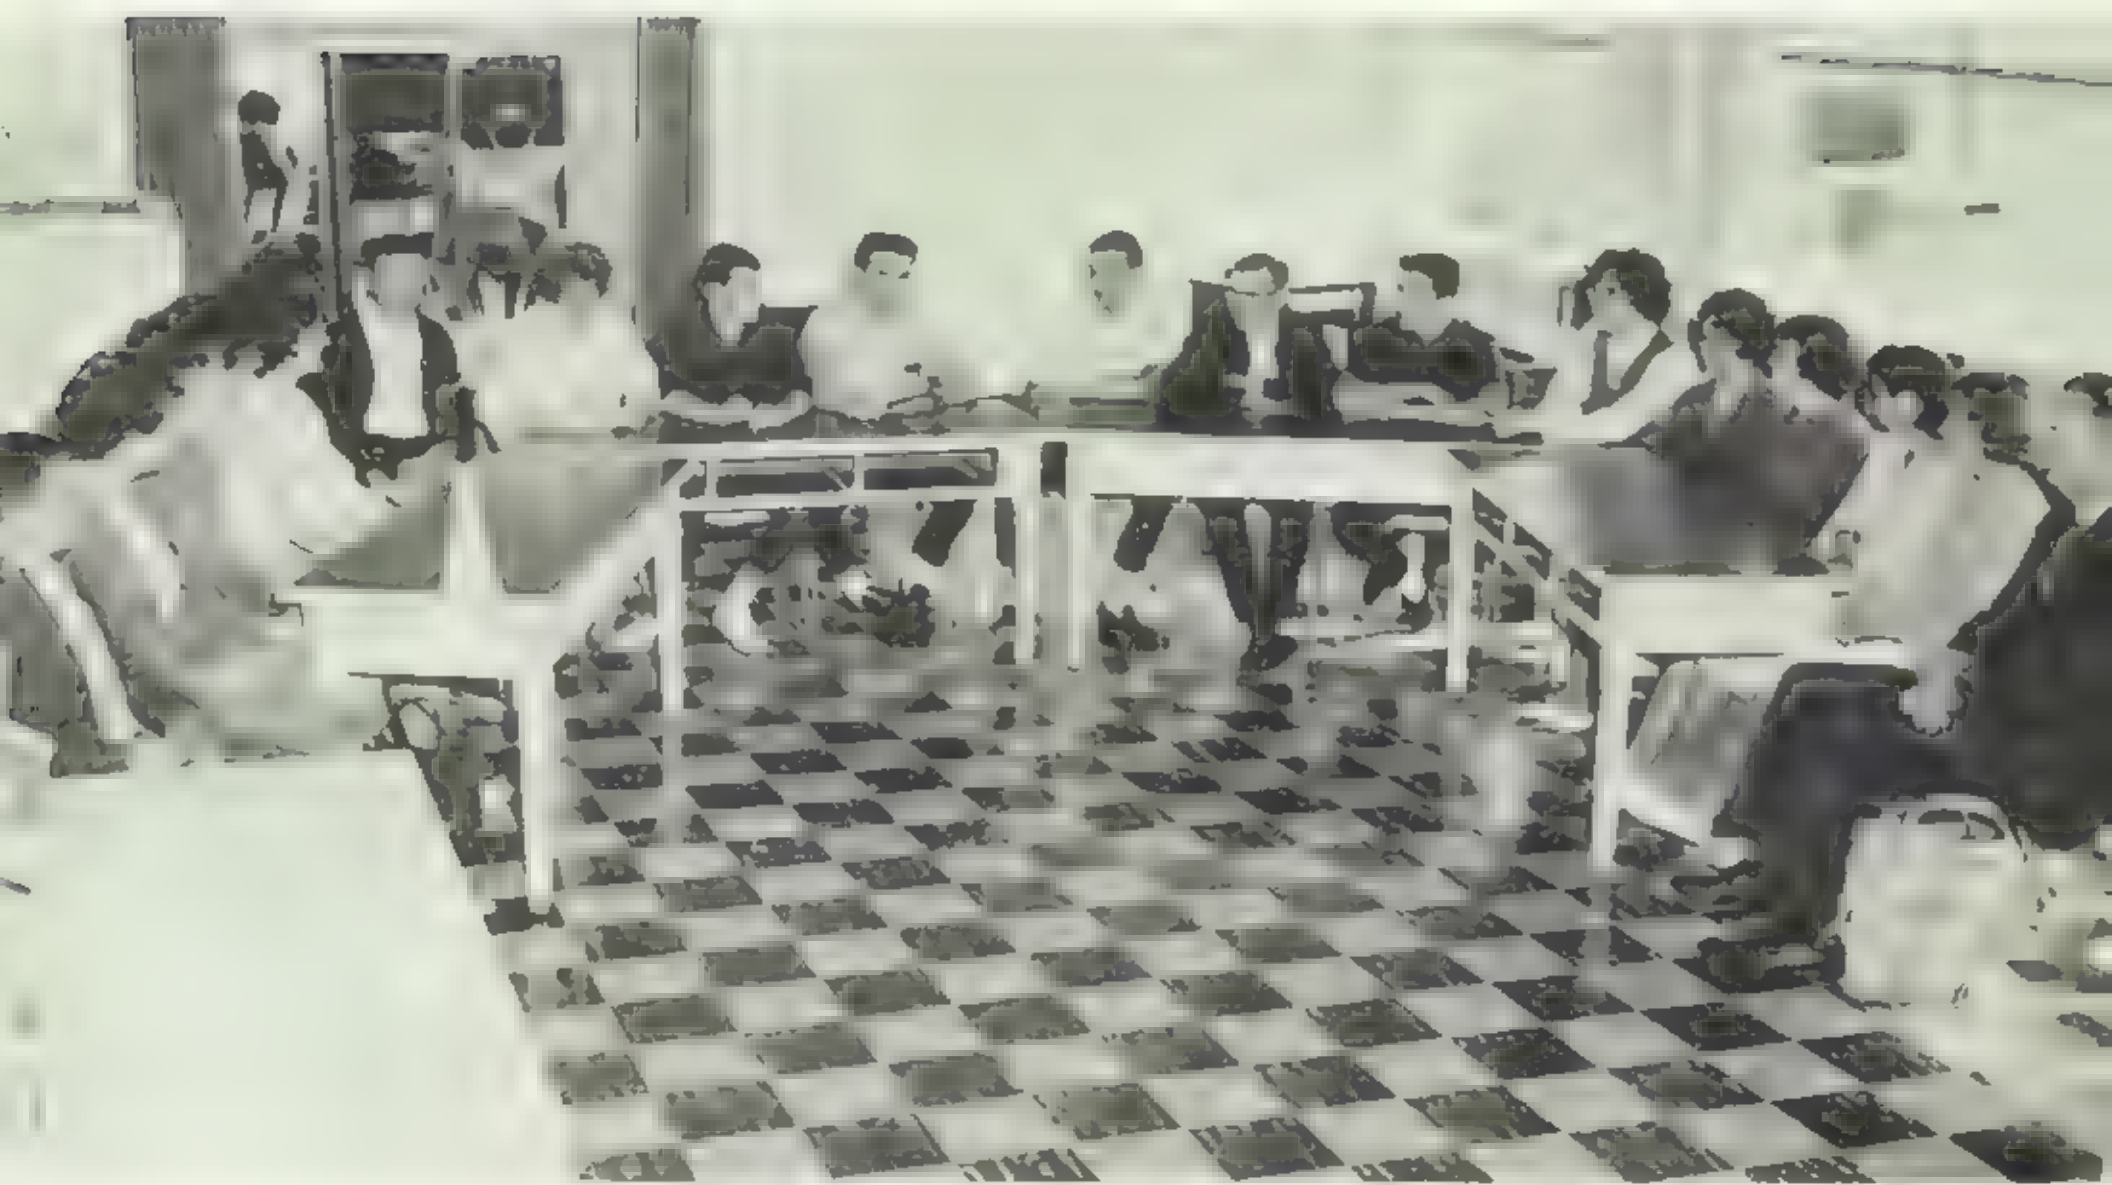

Steve Smith, President

Charlie Blake, Vice President

Under the leadership of President, Steve Smith, and advisor, Mr. Beil; the Student Council made many decisions and sponsored several new projects as well as Homecoming activities. The Student Council voted to sponsor a boy to Boys State, adoption of National School Assemblies for next year, have an all-school play rather than an Operetta and, most important, to raise money to sponsor a foreign student in Sequim next year.

VICTORY CLIMAXES HOMECOMING

Queen, Loxie Kinnaman

King, Ron Herman

Queen Loxie Kinnaman and King Ron Herman reigned over the 1963 Homecoming activities which included a Snake Dance, the burning of a North Mason dummy, and the big Homecoming game between Sequim and North Mason. Our team played hard making the first victory of the season.

Friday night after the game, the Homecoming Dance was held in the Old Gym. The shadows of a couple walking down an autumn lane, carried out the theme of October Shadows very well.

There was much excitement and anticipation the night of Homecoming and memories will be held by all.

FUND RAISING PROJECTS BRING

FOREIGN

STUDENT

Ann Forest, Ben Frick, Sandee Wood, Robin Davis.

Sequim High in cooperation with the Sequim branch of the American Field Service co-sponsored money raising projects totaling $463 to enable a foreign student to attend Sequim High next year.

First, a Seafood dinner under the co-chairmanship of Ann Forest and Robin Davis increased community interest in the project and boosted funds toward the goal of $350. Students went crabbing, obtained clams and Ben Frick donated an octopus.

Because the people of Sequim were willing to co-operate, a new project, a white Elephant Sale, was undertaken with Robin Davis as chairman and Peggy Lancaster and Eric Walker as assistant. Through hard work and new innovations the sale proved to be the largest money-maker.

Because of the great success of these other community-sponsored activities, enough money was earned to bring a foreign student to Sequim.

To Local F.F.A. Chapter

The Sequim chapter of Future Farmers had an extremely eventful year. The election of Terry Peterson as State President and State Farmer as well as the election of Dennis Boyd, former Sequim F.F.A. member, as American Farmer promoted the interest of the school and the community. Instead of sponsoring the traditional Parent-Son Banquet, dessert was served at the annual honors program in May. The coveted Bankers' Award was presented to Tom Boyd. Class awards and awards for specialized farming work were given. Next year's officers were also installed. The Sweetheart for the coming year, Lynn Dee Parker, was announced. The boys earned money for their various projects by selling food at the football games, pruning and spraying trees. They also built a float for the Irrigation Festival Parade. The club's advisor, Mr. Teesdale, accompanied Dennis Boyd to the National Convention at Kansas City in November.

F.H.A. Sponsors Daddy Date Night

F.H.A. girls sell pizza at noon to raise money for their annual Daddy Date Night.

To earn money for the seventh annual "Daddy Date Night", F.H.A. girls worked on many projects. Noon pizza sales which were very successful were introduced this year. A Pep Dance and cookie sales also helped us to raise money for "Daddy Date Night." About 150 girls and their fathers attended the dinner held in March. "Our Captain", the theme, was decorated with glass balls, driftwood and a sailboat. Our advisor, Mrs. Spath, and her husband accompanied several club members to a Regional Meeting in Ocosta in November.

Candidates John Buckingham and Terry Peterson anxiously await announcement of next year's F.H.A. Prince. John was chosen as Prince.

Strives For Fitness

To participate in healthy, wholesome athletics --this seems to sum up the purpose of G.A.A. This year the girls met twice weekly and, under the capable direction of their advisor, Miss Newman, played such games as volleyball, badminton, softball, shuffleboard, and basketball.

The juniors seemed to dominate tournament action this year, taking first place in both the annual basketball tourney and the new volleyball tournament.

The year ended in the awarding of letters to the many hard-working girls.

Girl's Tennis Achieves Outstanding Record

The girls' tennis team, composed primarily of juniors, showed great spirit and enthusiasm by placing third in the league with a seasons record of five wins and only two losses.

At the Olympic League conference matches, Bernice Swanson and Linda Martin took fourth place in doubles while Karen Kettel brought home the only trophy by placing third in singles.

Non-College Vocational Program Speakers

Climaxing a very active year for the Honor Society was a half-day field trip to the naval shipyard in Bremerton. May 21st, 35 members of the group left by bus at noon for the trip. After a tour of the museum the club was provided with a guided trip through the "USS Missouri", famous for its part in World War II. Later they roamed over the campus of Bremerton Junior College.

Earlier in the year the club was invited aboard a Japanese freighter docked in Port Angeles. The entire crew was Japanese and our guide made the event enjoyable with his Japanese-English. The club was shown the entire boat from the kitchen and crew quarters to the engine and radio room. As an act of friendship the men presented Sequim with two goldfish.

For the annual assembly, Honor Society members gave brief talks on various non-college vocations available. Mr. Hersecorn from Port Angeles was the guest speaker.

To earn sufficient funds for their projects and their $100 scholarship the club made and sold popcorn for all home basketball and football games.

To graduate in Honor Society a student must have maintained a 3.3 average for the last three years as well as earned six credit hours. To earn these credits members worked on special school projects, helped with popcorn sales. Tutoring was newly introduced into the club this year. In years to come it should prove to be an effective way to earn credits and help others.

Mothers Honored at Japanese Tea

The Girls Club, under advisor Miss Newman, adopted several projects to help them earn money toward the Mothers Tea which they sponsor annually. During the football season members of the club sold programs and snowcones at each game. In May, after a great deal of preparation, "Flight 64 to Tokyo" the Mothers Tea, was presented. A fashion show narrated by Sandee Wood and Margaret Sanford was the main part of the program. Pam Clark and Nancy Warman sang a duet, "Bali Hai," and Karen Kettel and Katy Irish played "Dance of the Rosebuds" a two piece piano number. 350 people attended, making this tea the biggest yet.

Noon Movies Spark Projection Club Interests

Silent movies were the main money making project for the year. Shown at noon for 5¢, they featured such silent movie stars as Dracula, Laurel and Hardy and others.

The club worked diligently preparing audio visual aides for classroom work and assemblies. At the end of the year in appreciation for the guidance and leadership of their advisor, Mr. Nelson, the members presented him with a surprise gift.

"Curious Savage"

Highlights Thespian Activities

The highlight of this year's thespian activities was the presentation April 17 of John Patrick's three act comedy, "The Curious Savage." This production marked the end of two and a half months of hard work and practice. Although the cast and crew had to put in many long hours to make the production a success, the experience gained in all phases of theatrical work, not to mention the fun we had, made the sacrifices well worthwhile.

"In Apple Blossom

Couples enjoy live music and apple blossom decorations.

The Juniors were justifiably proud as they sponsored "In Apple Blossom Time" in honor of the Senior Class. The old gym was transformed into a spring garden of apple blossoms in several shades of pink. The night of April 25, as the ninety couples entered the festive room they admiringly gazed at the fountain centerpiece, two walls entirely covered with apple blossoms and matching table decorations. A sixteen-piece band from North Kitsap played while the couples danced and enjoyed the decorations. Mr. Rogers took lovely colored pictures of couples seated in a swing. Linda Dryke and Terry Peterson, co-chairmen, and many other juniors worked hard to create an unforgettable prom.

The swing, tree and apple blossoms from the prom were used on a float which the Juniors entered in the Grand Parade of the Irrigation Festival. Three girls who had worked hard on the prom were chosen by their class and the faculty to ride on the float. Linda Dryke and Linda Nordwell were seated on the front of the float while Christy Jarmuth sat in the swing.

1964 Irrigation Festival Marks its 69th Year

Queen Bonnie Johnson and Princesses Loxie Kinnaman and Sharon Peterson lead the Grand Parade of floats in the 1964 Irrigation Festival.

Lt. Gov. Cherburg crowns Queen Bonnie

Sequim, sponsoring the biggest festival in its history was host to over six thousand people who saw the Grand Parade with the Lancer Band from Pasadena, California, as the big attraction. The absence of a general theme provided for a greater variety of entries in the parade this year. Mr. Stoican's float won the Sweepstakes for the fourth year. Other well-attended events included the traditional Logging Show, Kiddies Parade, High School variety show and Coronation of The Royalty. The coronation of Queen Bonnie followed by the Queen's Ball opened the celebration.

The highlight of the three-day festival was the opening of the new swimming pool. The court gained the admiration of Sequim during their busy reign which included not only all the activities of our own festival but also attendance at several local club meetings.

Coaches' Award

Despite great adversities, the Sequim Wolves represented our school in a hard fought season. For the most part, it was a season in which the coaching staff attempted to form the foundation upon which to build successful football teams. Probably the outstanding characteristic of this year's team was its unwillingness to admit defeat. While experiencing four straight defeats, the players continued to show tenacity and willingness to work and learn. Concrete evidence of this fact was the victory achieved on Homecoming by overwhelming the North Mason Bulldogs 33-7. Due to bad breaks and several injuries sustained by the varsity squad, we had a rough season. Although the squad was lacking in reserve strength, they always put up a good fight and played fine ball to the final gun. The scores were not always representative of the caliber of football played; however we are proud of our Wolves.

WOLVES BATTLE DESPITE ODDS

Ron Beil, Eric Walker, managers, Al Grall, Terry Peterson, Steve Gustafson, Bill Hahn, Gary Witte, Cliff Echemkamp, Don Swanson, Don Brueckner, Charles Blake, Steve Callis, Coach Virgil King.

With several returning first string ball players, the Wolves made an impressive showing throughout the season, winning nine of their games. Several of the games were lost in the last minutes of play.

The Olympic League proved to be very tough this year. Although they didn't quite make it to "State", they deserve a lot of credit.

Cliff Echemkamp proved to be the real hoop artist this year, leading the Olympic League scoring with 426 points. Bill Hahn won the inspiration award for a fine season of hard work and team play. Terry Peterson received the coaches award for a job well done.

The outlook for next year's squad looks pretty good. Many of the juniors were able to get in a great deal of practice and experience while the Sophomores should prove to be an asset to the team next year.

Bill Hahn carries Sequim to an almost win against Port Angeles.

Junior High Softball Teams Participate in "Round Robin"

The Junior High Baseball Teams, under the coaching of Jack Copeland and Ron Newton participated in a "round robin." The teams led by Pete Holden, Don Bugge, Louie Kardonsky, Steve Smith, Dave Knapman and Don Sparks played in intramural games throughout the season. With some fine coaching, Louie Kardonsky led his team out of the cellar spot in the second round. It was team spirit and skill that made it possible for Louie's team to win the championship. Although the other teams were evenly matched some had more spirit than their opposition and gained more recognition.

Dearest Kathy

Be as good a girl as the circumstances permit sooner or later you'll be seeing more of me.

P.S.

Bye (for now)
Love, Denny

You shouldn't have done it.
Two or three of us basically honest types saw you. Someday you'll regret it, believe me.

Love you Always
